

CLIENT

Giant Store, Helston (formerly Cycle Logic)

SECTOR: RETAIL

Blue Flame's site engineers and technical team were exemplary and a credit to the company. Nothing was too much trouble and the work was completed on time, in budget and without a hitch.

Introduction

We supported Giant and shop fitting team, White Room UK, by delivering electrical services as part of a 13 day shop refit to mark Cycle Logic joining the Giant franchise.

The Client

One of Helston's longstanding businesses and bike experts, Cycle Logic, became part of the Giant "family" in autumn 2016.

Cycle Logic undertook a shop and workshop refit and upgrade, which included the installation of lighting and heating systems as part of their transformation.

Having been trading for 20 years we embarked on a major shop fitting exercise in October 2016. This involved very close liaison with us, our supplier Giant Bicycles, the design team, the shop fitting team and Blue Flame. ”

What we deliver

- A high quality, customer focused, solution
- Speed of service
- On budget solutions

Working alongside White Room UK, the Blue Flame team delivered the new lighting and heating system in just 13 days, which allowed the Giant Store to open on time.

With careful management, and commitment to sustainability by re-using equipment where possible, the work was delivered on budget, as well as on time.

We Do

- Electrical services and system design
- Installation of new heating circuits
- Modification of existing heating systems
- Installation of energy efficient lighting, including sign lighting and emergency lighting
- Installation of new distribution boards

Added Value

As well as designing a system to fit in with the budget, the Blue Flame team was able to reduce costs by reusing electrical equipment, where possible, in line with both Cycle Logic and Blue Flame's sustainability ethos.

This included modifying the former heating system in the shop, as opposed to installing a new one.

The Blue Flame team

Richard Burns, Chris Hughes, Richard Thompson, Tom Gregg and Duncan Hendry

“The project had to be started and completed in one month and involved ‘dove-tailing’ all the elements of the project in time for the next team to proceed and progress...

Thanks to Blue Flame a complicated project was managed and executed without stress.”
